Frontend Developer Intern

10/2023 to Present

Tublian

Remote

Tublian, a pioneering initiative within the dynamic tech industry, aims to address the distinct challenges faced by developers venturing into the realm of open source. In the midst of a crowded technological landscape, Tublian recognizes that true differentiation extends beyond mere visibility it encompasses the cultivation of authentic experience, mastery of new programming skills, and, notably, the acquisition of expertise in contributing to existing code projects, particularly for those embarking on their developmental journey.
